About Corr Recruitment

Corr Recruitment is an independent specialist recruiter with more than 25 years of experience supporting businesses across the South East, South West and East of England.

Operating across transport and logistics, industrial and manufacturing, and commercial recruitment, Corr has built its reputation on responsive service, sector understanding and long-term client relationships.

With established specialist teams, an extensive candidate network and eight locations across the region, Corr continues to grow by helping businesses find the right people, quickly and consistently.

At Corr Recruitment, people matter just as much as performance. We have built a culture where effort is recognised, support is always available, and people genuinely want each other to succeed.

As an independent business, we combine the pace and opportunity of a growing company with the support, trust and teamwork that help people build long-term careers.

The Opportunity

Following a great start to the year and continued growth across the business, Corr Recruitment is looking for two Business Development Managers to support continued expansion across the South East and South West.

This role is focused on identifying new business opportunities, developing strong client relationships and helping drive growth across Corr's transport and logistics, industrial and manufacturing, and commercial recruitment divisions.

Working closely with key decision-makers, the role involves attending meetings and site visits, generating leads, preparing proposals and presentations, and building long-term partnerships that create repeat business.

What you'll be doing...

- Generating new business opportunities across the South East or South West
- Building relationships with new and existing clients
- Arranging meetings, presentations and site visits
- Developing proposals and tender responses
- Working closely with branch teams to support service delivery
- Maintaining accurate records of activity and opportunities
- Representing Corr Recruitment professionally within the market
- Identifying opportunities for sole supply, managed services and on-site support
- Supporting growth across transport and logistics, industrial and manufacturing, and commercial recruitment

South West & South East Opportunities

- Competitive salary and commission structure
- Car allowance
- 40 hours per week
- Clear career progression opportunities
- Supportive team environment

What We're Looking For...

- Business development or sales experience
- Strong communication and relationship-building skills
- A highly organised approach
- Commercial awareness and a target-driven mindset
- Confidence in meetings and presentations
- Experience within recruitment or B2B sales preferred
- Confidence in dealing with senior decision-makers
- Ability to work independently and manage your own pipeline

Developing People. Building Careers.

At Corr Recruitment, development is built into the business. New employees are supported through structured induction, onboarding and role-specific training, with further development through mentoring, coaching, sales training and ongoing compliance updates.

Regular industry updates, refresher training and development planning help employees build confidence and grow their careers over time.

Managers also benefit from leadership support and coaching, reflecting Corr's commitment not just to performance, but to progression.
